

The Cold War

RAF Museum Cosford

Newangle were appointed as producers of all the AV shows for the new Cold War exhibition at the RAF Museum, Cosford, that opened in February 2007.

Among the programmes developed are major experiential theatre shows, explaining the Cuban Missile Crisis and the Space Race.

The Cuban Missile Crisis is a video installation that includes down projection onto a table and a projection around the entire room. Visitors are immersed in the tension of the crisis.

🕒 Completion date
February 2007

📋 Services
Scriptwriting, AV consultancy, archive research, copyright clearance and video production

📄 Overview
Multi-screen projections, single screen programmes

